Oh! such a love is like the sweet, cool breeze Of summer evening after sultry heats, Through which, half-maddened by the ceaseless glare, We yet have fought our battles out like men; Or like a fountain in a dried-up land Wherein we long have wandered parched with thirst; Or like the first glimpse of a lovely isle To shipwrecked mariners when spent with toil; Or like a breath from Heavn, in mercy sent, To lift our fainting spirits from the dust! W. A. Gills. A BALLAD. When summer leaves were green and wide, And sultry was the weather, Home went two lovers side by side, From raking hay together; And he might plead and sue his fill, But she said...
